

Amtrak And Trains From The Airport

Using Amtrak From New York or Washington

Philadelphia Focus, Inc. is located 13 blocks or 5 minutes away from Amtraks 30th Street Station. Travel times are:

From Manhattan by Metroliner to 30th Street: 1 Hour

From Manhattan by regular Amtrak to 30th Street: 90 Minutes

From Washington D.C. by Metroliner: 90 Minutes

From Washington D.C. by regular Amtrak: 2 Hours

Using The Airport Express Train

At the Philadelphia Airport, you can utilize a train that will bring you right from the airline terminal to within one block of Philadelphia Focus, Inc. The ride takes twenty minutes and costs $4.00 each way (Exact change is helpful). Tickets are purchased at vending machines on the train platform.

At the airport, look for signs that say:

Airport Express Train To Center City

The entrance to the train platform is halfway from your plane exit ramp to the baggage pick-up terminal. This makes it very convenient if all of your luggage is carry-on.

The train leaves the airport every half-hour, at 10 minutes after the hour, and at twenty minutes before each hour.

The train will bring you to Suburban Station, which is the Center City Stop. Upon leaving the train platform at Suburban Station, look for signs to the 17th Street Exit. Exit here, and turn right at the Street level. Philadelphia Focus is one block away on the left side of the street at 100 N. 17th Street, 3rd Floor.
